

VACANCY

Senior Fellow

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (IBEI) is inviting applications for the position of Senior Fellow in American Foreign Policy and International Security. This is a 3-year appointment, with the potential for extension, and the successful candidate will commence in September 2025. The salary offered ranges from €45,000 to €55,000 per annum, commensurate with the candidate's skills and experience.

For the last four years, the IBEI has developed a program focused on the foreign policy of the United States and international security, with the support of the Institute of North-American Studies (IEN) based in Barcelona. The program aims to:

1. Foster public, academic, and expert discourse on US foreign policy and its global impact, particularly regarding US relations with Europe, the MENA region, and transatlantic affairs.
2. Promote research on US foreign policy and international security, with an emphasis on strategic, geopolitical, and socio-economic dimensions.
3. Enhance IBEI's role in American foreign policy and international security studies through collaborations with internationally renowned scholars.

Qualifications and Expectations:

Candidates must hold a PhD and demonstrate an outstanding track record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or leading scholarly presses. They should also have proven experience in leading and participating in research networks, bridging the gap between academic research, policy, and practice, and communicating research insights to diverse audiences.

In addition to strong interpersonal and collaborative skills, the Senior Fellow will be expected to:

- Conduct scholarly research related to US foreign policy and international security.
- Participate in policy debates and contribute to dissemination efforts under the program.
- Engage in IBEI's academic activities and research clusters.
- Teach 75 hours a year in IBEI's master's programs (in English).

How to apply?

Interested candidates must complete the Application Form before November 30, 2024.

Interested applicants should submit the following documents:

- A letter of interest.
- A full curriculum vitae.
- A sample of prior research (two papers or book synopses).
- A proposed agenda for the program.
- Contact details of three academic referees (to be contacted if shortlisted).

VACANCY

Senior Fellow

INSTITUT BARCELONA D'ESTUDIS INTERNACIONALS (IBEI)

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (IBEI) is a renowned graduate teaching and research institution founded by five leading universities in Barcelona: the Autonomous University of Barcelona, the Pompeu Fabra University, the University of Barcelona, the Open University of Catalonia, and the Technical University of Catalonia. IBEI's research spans key fields such as international political economy, international relations, international security, international development, foreign policy, and comparative politics.

IBEI is a CERCA research excellence institution. It is also an institution committed to equal opportunities and holds the HR Excellence in Research award from the European Commission, reflecting its dedication to providing a stimulating and supportive work environment, and to continually improving its human resources policies.

HR EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH

More information about IBEI at www.ibeio.org

INSTITUT D'ESTUDIS NORD-AMERICANS FOUNDATION (IEN)

The Institut d'Estudis Nord-americans Foundation (IEN) has a consistent track record in promoting mutual knowledge between Catalonia and the United States since 1951, and wishes to support the study of different aspects of American culture, history, society, economics and politics so as to make the city of Barcelona a place for reflection and debate, as well as a meeting point, on American studies.

More information about IEN at www.ien.es